The World in My Students' Eyes

Preparing for your next lecture? How do your students see the world in your discipline? Learn how one information technology professor uses technology to see how his students put together their thoughts through critical thinking.

Know Your Students	Technology Used

• Associated beliefs, customs, income, previous education, and current standing	• Published public and institutional reports
	• Institutional database
	• Survey your students with Online Management System
	    o Academic and workforce interests
	    o Personal interests

• Overall progress in your class
• Progress in individual assignments requiring critical thinking
	• Formative and summative assessments
	    o Online Management Systems ▪ Publishers
	        ▪ D2L, Blackboard, or Canvas
	    o Use various assessments
	        ▪ Multiple choice
	        ▪ Fill-in-the-blank
	        ▪ Short answers
	        ▪ Essays
	• Netop
	    o www.netop.com
	        ▪ Vision Pro
	        ▪ Vision Me – iPads
	• iTALC
	    o italc.sourceforge.net

Aligned With

Know Yourself	Technology Used
• The heart of a teacher	• Web browser, Kindle, and Laptop o The Courage to Teach by Parker Palmer

Monday, March 21, 2016 8:00am to 9:00am
League for Innovations Chicago 2016
Gerry Tsoi
281-401-1834
gerry.c.tsoi@lonestar.edu